A False Report Denied.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN—I desire to state that the reports which are being circulated that I will vote the Democratic ticket, are false and there is no truth in them. They are made by Democrats, without authority, and for the purpose of injuring me. I desire to state that I am a Republican and will cast my vote at the coming November election for the entire Republican ticket. I know that our ticket is composed of good, honest, safe, industrious men, and that they will make good and efficient officers, and no one could make any mistake in voting for them. I think that it is in duty of all Republicans to stand together and vote for the Republican ticket at the November election this fall.

Yours respectfully,
G. B. SMITH,
Tazee, Ky., Aug. 24, 1901.

RENDER, KY.

Aug. 27—Mr. J. H. Brown, general manager of the C. C. & I. Co.'s store, at Render, went to Central City last Thursday on business.

Mr. Willie James, clerk for the C. C. & I. Co., at Render, visited relatives and friends at Centertown last Sunday.

Mr. E. L. Myers, of this city, visited friends at Central City last Sunday.

Messrs. Simon Stevens and E. H. Gwynn are attending the conclave at Louisville.

Mr. Robert Blackburn, who has been lying at the point of death with congestion of the brain, is recovering rapidly.

Mr. Ells Hindson is on the sick list at this writing.

There was a nice crowd from Render attended the grand game of baseball at Leitchfield last Sunday between the strong teams of Leitchfield and Render. It was easy for Render to defeat the Leitchfield boys with the reliable pitchers, Joe James and Will Sloan, in the box. This was James first game to pitch. The Render boys received good treatment. Last Saturday Render defeated Centertown at Render, the score stood 27 to Render and 15 to Centertown.

Rev. L. B. Steersman, of Bremen, had his regular appointment here last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Rowe, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Render, has returned to her home in Leitchfield.

Mr. Willie Kelly visited friends in Leitchfield last Sunday.

Police Raided Gambling Game.

The gamblers who had prepared to rich suddenly at the expense of the conclave visitors, were duly interrupted Tuesday by the police, who raided a number of places and arrested the men in charge, besides confiscating the paraphernalia.

It seems that a general plan to open up all over the city had been formed and for five hours things were running at full blast. The play was heavy and many a "sucker" was fleeced before the officers stopped the game.

Theodore Thomas was the first man to be arrested. He is charged with setting up and running a game of chance. The game was conducted in Ed Weylar's saloon at Sixth and Market streets. Weylar was also taken into custody and held on a charge of shooting gaming on his premises. A lay-out of chuck-a-luck was found and taken as evidence.

Sergeant Dora and Patrolman Gallegos found William Bidwell and H. M. Miner operating a big spitfire wheel in a vacant store room on Market street between Eighth and Ninth streets. They were arrested and the paraphernalia taken. About $350 was found in the cash drawer.—Com-

Forewarned, Forearmed.

The liability to disease is greatly lessened when the blood is in good condition, and the circulation healthy and vigorous. For then all reflexes are promptly carried out of the system; otherwise, it would accumulate fermentation would take place, the blood become polluted and the constitution so weakened that a simple malady might result seriously.

A healthy, active circulation means good digestion and strong, healthy nerves.

As a blood purifier and tonic S. S. S. has no equal. It is the safest and best remedy for old people and children because it contains no animal hair, is made exclusively of roots and herbs.

No other remedy so thoroughly and effectively cleanses the blood of impurities. At the same time it builds up the weak and debilitated, and renovates the entire system.

It cures permanently all manner of blood and skin troubles.

Mr. E. E. Kelly, of Urbana, O., writes: "After taking S. S. S. for five years. It would break out in little white pustules, crust, and form a scab, which would not heal and become infected. The doctors did me no good. I used S. S. S. and it cured me, and my skin is as clean and smooth as one's."

Miss Mary Elizabeth, of Cincinnati, N. J., says that two bottles of S. S. S. cured her of Cancer of the breast. Doctor and friends thought her case hopeless.

Richard T. Gardner, Florence, O., writes: "I took S. S. S. for three years. It got the blood in good condition and the boils disappeared."

FIRST COAL OIL.

Was Manufactured in Kentucky at Cloverport in Breckinridge Co.

KING EDWARD THE VII

Of England Was a Member of the Company and a Saviour Yankee.

MADE HIS MONEY FLY.

Although not one in a thousand know it, people coming down the L. H. & St. L. R. pass, at Cloverport within a short distance of the place where King Edward VII of England made his only extensive American investment and lost.

The site of the royal speculation is a geographical and geological freak in the southwestern part of Breckinridge county. The point in question is a hill one hundred feet high, comprising about 1,000 acres, which were thrown up in past ages by some gigantic vaults of nature. It cost in English money, including the King, who was then the prince of Wales, about £2,500,000 during the course of a few months. Geologists say this hill is unrelated to any other in the State. Uncle Tom's Cabin within ten miles of the Breckinridge county deposit.

Twenty-five years before the discovery of petroleum, coal oil was manufactured from the canals at Cloverport. So much gas was generated that a light house, which burned day and night, was established and became a landmark on the Ohio river fifty years ago. It was the first coal oil ever seen or burned in Henderson.

In 1884, D. H. Yoemans, an Easterner, appeared in London and cut a wide swath.

His visit ended by the purchase of the mines by a syndicate of Englishmen, including the royal highness, the prince of Wales, under the title of the Breckinridge company, limited.

They put a vast force of men to work and the way the manager spent money was a wonder. It cost $8 to mine a ton of coal which sold for $7. This condition prevailed for several years.

The last manager, an American, saved the company from absolute ruin. A'nt the King's men over to him? He declared himself to be a Democrat in the convention held at the Lexington convention, and we reported him to the public. This was all that was said of him, which seems to have slandered him. What! Slander him to call him a Democrat? You see what he said, it is not our saying, it is his own language.

He was charged with Democracy and so nauseating was it to his mental stomach that it revolted against it and actually emitted the above letter as a result of the pause. It will puzzle the wisest to harmonize these manuscripts. We can't do it. It's yours, gentle reader, to have and to hold, fix it for yourself.

BINGHAM IN NEW ROLE

Elopes With Young Heiress and the Police Collar Him—His Plans Foiled.

Ralph Bingham, the well-known monologist, was a central figure in a startling sensation which transpired in Atlantic City, N. J., last week. Ralph wanted to marry a California heiress, and the two had attempted to carry out their plans of elopement, and that is how the trouble came about.

Miss Isabel Cermersa is a California beauty who has a fortune of about $50,000, which she will inherit on her twenty-first birthday. Mr. Bingham met her at Atlantic City, where she had gone with her uncle on a visit. A courtship was started between Mr. Bingham and the young lady which soon assumed matrimonial proportions. Miss Cermersa was under age and was a ward of the Court's, and the lovers decided that they would take the matter in their own hands, rather than trust their love to the court, and plans for an elopement were perfected. The young lady wrote a note to her uncle and left it in his room. The lovers left the city in a carriage for a nearby town, where they intended to marry, but had not gone far before the young lady's uncle was apprised of their intentions by her note, and with the police and a patrol wagon, was in hot pursuit of them.

The elopers were overtaken, but when their carriage was halted they took to their heels. They were caught and Ralph got angry and fought the police. He was finally quelled, but lost his collar and his coat was ripped up the back in the scrap. The officers landed the disappointed lovers in the patrol wagon and took them back to Atlantic City. The master was dropped upon Ralph's promise to be good ever afterwards and leave off his attention to the heiress.

Ralph left the city and is now probably enjoying the fact that, though he may not be wiser, he is a long ways poorer than he would have been had he only had his way, but he should find consolation in the thought that he knows an opportunity and got the nerve to grasp it.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that he had been running off so long that it was almost black fluid. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not feel relieved, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

The Latest Joke Out.

The Bourbon News says: Here is the latest joke out. It struck Paris last week and is being chaperoned around by "Skilly" Adair.

A Jew met a friend of his on the street and said to him, "Say, mine friend is a polar bear?"

"What is a polar bear? Why, a polar bear is a thing which sits on the ice and eats fish," remarked the friend.

"Well, I vort be it," said the Jew. "I wouldn't be it. Mine brudder's wife died yesterday and he wants us

The Eminent Kidney and Bladder Specialist.

The place of Strange and Work is His Laboratory.

There is a disease prevailing in this country, and it is because so deeply. Many sudden deaths are caused by heart disease, especially heart failure, and often the cause of kidney disease. All kidney trouble is due to the kidneys, gallbladder and attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the tissues of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the body has all kinds of disease, the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Klemmer's Swamp-Root is the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. It is druggists in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. There is a drugstore telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Klemmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and mention this paper.

to be one of the polar bears. I wouldn't sit on the ice and eat fish for my own brudder."

This was a very good joke several years ago, before it had whiskers, and we are glad that it has struck Paris. However, we rise to say that we had stopped telling this joke long before Bryan ran—the first time.

A young lady was recently thrown out of a buggy and fainted from fright. The first question she asked on regaining her senses was: "Is my hat on straight?"

More than one young woman who sheds copious tears over the heroine of a yellow back novel, will view with undisturbed equanimity her mother down on her knees scrubbing the kitchen floor or chasing dirty linen up and down a washboard and think it is all right.

Very few people believe in Christ Science when they are having a tooth filled.

We notice that the most pious people enjoy a good meal just as well as sinners, but that is no reason a good housewife should stay at home all day Sunday to get up a big dinner.

It is better to fire the hired man who persists in smoking around the barn than to share a big loss with the insurance company.

The most successful picnic is the one where four or five do the work and the others sit around and have a good time.

The Rev. J. P. Stubblefield, a noted Methodist divine, was once holding a meeting in the Purchase, and had succeeded in arousing considerable interest, when one good sister got happy and began to shout and cry for joy. A little boy in the audience had never seen anything like this before, and said to his mother: "Ma, let's go home. The preacher has hurt one woman and he might hurt you."

George Toye says he had rather shave from Dutchmen than one Irishman. On being asked why, he said: "I would get forty cents for shaving the four Dutchmen, and would only get ten cents for shaving the Irishman."

At a recent banquet the question arose, which of all the world's great men had been most talked about. One of our State Senators said: "Fochon had caused more comment than any other man." On being told that Fochon was a woman, he said: "Well, it's been so long since I read the Bible, I have forgotten all about it."

London trade journals are prematurely rejoicing over the prospect of a tariff war between Germany and the United States. This rejoicing of the third party is inspired by the confident belief that the Reichstag will pass the Government tariff bill. But the vigorous agitation that has sprung up among the German masses over some of the monstrous provisions of this bill—especially the harborous increase of duties on breadstuffs and meats—is not likely to be without a powerful effect upon the Reichstag.

WASN'T HURT

Though the Baby fell Over a One-Hundred-Foot Precipice.

A horse attached to a carriage containing the two-year-old baby of Dr. Wilber M. Swett became frightened and plunged over a precipice 100 feet high on Tiduron boulevard yesterday afternoon. The carriage fell a battered wreck on the rocks at the foot of the cliff, the horse being instantly killed, but the child was found nestled among the cushions of the smashed rig alive and without a scratch. Mrs. Swett was driving, when the horse took flight, and, finding she could not stop the animal, she jumped out and ran to its head. She was to late, however, as the horse swung sideways and backed the carriage over the cliff. It balanced a moment and then plunged down the rocks 100 feet below.

When the rescuers reached the bottom of the cliff they pried apart the wreckage of the carriage, and as they reached the space between the seats were greeted with a baby chuckle. The little one was without a scratch and not a tear was on its cheek.

The high seats of the buggy were smashed together at the top in the fall, making a pyramid-shaped box, which prevented the baby from dropping from the rig, while the cushioned seats saved it from being killed by shock.—San Francisco Call. Inter Ocean.

A genius now comes forward with the claim that he can make tough meats tender by submitting them to an electric treatment. The writer quite often comes across old farrow beefsteak which would require a treatment of 1,500 volts to do it any good.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. H. Wells, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspent yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-size bottle."

Rev. Dr. Morris Wechsler, Rabbi of the Congregation Israel, New York, Jan. 3, 1901.

Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma.

Its success is astonishing and wonderful. After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthmalene contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or ether. Very truly yours,

REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER.
